Dear Dr. Goldentyer:

I received a letter dated 2/13/07 from Dr. Robert Willems of your office, indicating that our Annual Report for FY 2006 [for Virginia Polytechnic Institute & State University (Virginia Tech), Registration # 52-R-0012, Customer # 492] was incomplete. It was noted that 30 hamsters were listed in Column E, and that our submission did not contain a description of the procedure producing the pain or distress and justification for not providing relief from pain or distress for any of the animals.

In reviewing the protocol submission, I discovered that I had erroneously listed the animals in Column E, whereas the protocol had been approved by the IACUC as a Category D. The fault is entirely my own, as I was the individual who typed the Annual Report.

I spoke this morning with Dr. Dennis Crabtree of your office, who indicated that I did not need to submit a corrected copy of the 2006 Annual Report, but rather I could send a letter requesting that the document be amended/corrected. This letter will serve as an official request to correct our 2006 Annual Report to list 30 hamsters as used in Column D, and to delete the listing of 30 hamsters in Column E.

Thank you for the opportunity to make this correction to our Annual Report.

Sincerely,

(b)(6), (b)(7)c
